

Visitor Information: COVID – 19 (Coronavirus)

The safety of our visitors and staff is our top priority at the Staten Island Children’s Museum. We share your concerns about the recent reports of COVID – 19 (Coronavirus) in New York.

In response to the coronavirus, the Staten Island Children’s Museum is implementing enhanced procedures for the safety of our visitors and staff.

- In addition to our regular procedures, we are adding additional efforts to clean and disinfect all handrails, water fountains, doorknobs, elevator buttons, restrooms and play items in the exhibits. Children’s Museum staff are engaged in this effort and you will see them regularly wiping down and disinfecting these common items and areas.
- We have temporarily removed some toys and items from exhibits for enhanced safety, such as playing cards, costumes, and porous blocks.
- Please alert any of the Museum staff if you see an item or area that you believe needs immediate cleaning or disinfecting.

We will continue to work with New York City, State and Federal agencies to ensure that we are following all protocols for visitor safety.

Tips for Your Visit to the Staten Island Children’s Museum

1. Wash your hands for 20 seconds with soap and water after using the restroom, sneezing or coughing. Assist children with handwashing. If a restroom is in need of supplies, please notify the staff.
2. Use the hand sanitizer stations located throughout the Museum.
3. Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth.
4. Cough/sneeze into the sleeve of your shirt or into tissues that are disposed of properly.

Thank you for your cooperation in keeping our visitors and staff safe.
